THE NEW SWEATERS.

One is impressed with the gaiety of the new sweaters. When one sets forth to purchase a sweater, only a few seasons ago, there was a very stereotyped choice. One might have seen white, or serviceable navy blue, or practical though rather middle-aged looking gray; or—if one was not afraid of cows—cheerful red. A little later more latitude in choice was possible. Hunter's green and cinnamon brown were added to the gamut of colors, and there was one summer when every outing girl had a khaki suit and a cinnamon brown sweater.

Now, bless you, sweater colors are anything but ordinary, old fashioned shades. Only emigrant women and East Side housewives going to market wear gray sweaters, and that particular shade of crimson which used to be the choice in red, is seen no more save in the farthest limits of the unfashionable northwest.

Ready-to-slip-on sweaters in the shops may be had in modish shades of cerise, of amethyst, of citron and sage green, of bisquit, tete de negre and other fashionable browns. There are the loveliest blue, from a soft edgewood color matching the blue of a pretty blanching's eye, to an indescribable peacock shade which is just now the fad in dress stuffs. White sweaters there are plenty, for some women will always wear white, and adore a picturesque and charming outfit of white sweater, Panama hat, white skirt and patty white buttoned boots—than which it may be added, no more fetching rig has yet been devised. But colored sweaters—providing one selects a correctly fashionable color—are really more modish just now than pure white, and for wear with these gay sweaters there are brand new colored felt outing hats—just from Paris—and dubbed Post Impressionist golf hats by their imaginative makers. The college girl will be very gay this winter against a wintry background, clad in corduroy skirt of say, dark brown, a sweater of rich peacock blue, buttoned boots of tan and a rakish Post Impressionist hat of cherry felt.

Gay enough to please the most enthusiastic college girl, yet charmingly dainty withal, is the white sweater of gold colored silk, beautifully knitted so that it clings to the figure in graceful lines. Collar and cuffs are of cream white kid embroidered with rose pink and green outlined in black. To match this sweater there is a coquettish cap, all of the cream white kid, with a trim embroidered to match the sweater trimming.

Between the day of the public announcement of their engagement and their wedding day neither the man nor the girl dare call their souls their own. They name a day for their marriage. TRIALS OF ENGAGED COUPLES.

Why is it that the minute two people let it be known that they are going to get married friends and relatives, practically unheard of before, bob up and insist upon taking an active share in the wedding arrangements or else in overwhelming the engaged pair with "good advice."

Between the day of the public announcement of their engagement and their wedding day neither the man nor the girl dare call their souls their own.

They name a day for their marriage. Then half their friends and relatives take it upon themselves to take everything else connected with the affair out of their hands.

In the beginning the idea of the engaged couple may be to go into church one morning about 11 and get married as quickly and as unobtrusively as possible. Directly their plans get noised abroad, however, they are heavily "gunshed" and they are literally buried into agreeing to do all sorts of things that neither of them wants to do—but which apparently must be done.

First of all, the hour they had thought of is all wrong. "Why do they want to have a sort of secret marriage?" Are they ashamed of getting married? ask the interlopers. "Nobody" got married in the morning nowadays, they are told. It isn't fashionable. And, of course, a reception must follow the ceremony. "Mr. and Mrs. and Miss So and So" and "What's his name" and "You know her" must be invited to the reception or there will be unpleasantness. And the list grows. The handful of guests originally planned develops into a household, with expenses ten times as great.

"There'll be no wedding cake," the girl and her fiancée agree. "What, no cake?" chime the busy-body friends and relations. "Good gracious! We never heard of such barbarism! Of course, you must have a cake!"

And so, at considerable cost, there has to be a cake—a ridiculous, indigestible mass that no one wants in the least, but which must be provided because "every one has one" and "it would look so mean not to."

These are but a few of the preliminary penalties that cloud the domestic horizon of engaged couples. Why can't engaged couples arrange their own weddings as they want them themselves?

NOTES AND NOTIONS.

Black Beads Replace Strings of White Coral.

Who starts bead fashions? Last season strings of white coral, or imitation white coral, were the rage. These strings of milk white beads were most effective against dark bodices and they utterly banished for a season the shorter neck encircling strings of pearl beads which had erstwhile been fashionable. Now the mode is black beads and one wonders where all the white beads have gone to—no one is wearing them at least, for every feminine bodice that acknowledges itself up to date is decorated with a long loop of black jet. These black jet beads are very effective against the bright colored blouses of the moment.

THE SEWING CASE.

One of the most useful presents is the sewing roll, and it is also a present that meets with general approval. Even men appreciate the convenience of having needles and cottons handy. Cut some thin leather cloth into a strip six inches in width and 12 long, and line it with flowered silk in the same proportion. Bind the two together with silk.

Make two circles of cardboard two inches in diameter, and cover them with leather and silk. Sew the strips around them to make a pocket for reels. On the long flap sew notched leaves of flannel for the needles and beads. It stitches into compartments half inch wide ribbon to hold scissors, a bodkin, a thimble and a stiletto. Fasten lengths of ribbon to the end for tying the case up when rolled. The sewing roll makes a compact little bundle when tied up and it can be easily carried about.

EFFECTIVE FUR TRIMMING.

A light brown colored velvet was used in this design and black fox trims it as shown. The corded yoke and long decorative tabs are features of many of the new suits.

The coat is closed with buttons made of horn, closely matching the cloth in color, and the wide girth, corded at each edge, fastens under the tab at the left.

Makes Face Young—Tightens Love Ties

("Aurilla" in Woman's Sphere.) A fretful expression, a wrinkled face and a faded complexion, do more to drive the male members from than is commonly supposed. It was one of my greatest difficulties to appear smiling, fresh and elegant when my dear ones were with me. But I have overcome all that. I have changed my mental attitude and I now find it second nature to look cheerful. Due partly to this, partly to a remarkable treatment recommended by a friend, my appearance has improved. I look fifteen years younger than before.

A simple face lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered sassafras in a half-pint of water, proved a wonderful wrinkle-chaser. I still use this occasionally. To renovate my complexion I purchased an ounce of ordinary macerated wax at my druggist's and before using this, a marvelous transformation had taken place. It was like removing an unsightly mask, revealing a new face, a youthful complexion of distinctive delicacy, clear, white and velvety. I merely applied the wax like cold cream before retiring, washing it off mornings. Ten days' treatment sufficed.—Advertisement.

ALASKA DEVELOPMENTS ON LARGE SCALE.

The Juneau district of Alaska which has come to the front of late through the developments at the Alaska Gold Mines company property, gives promise of becoming one of the great gold producing regions of the world. The United States Smelting company, through its working option on the adjoining Elmer Gold Mines company's property, adds to the local interest in that district, although to date work on the Elmer has not been extensive, says the Boston News Bureau.

There has been under way for some time some big developments on the property of the Alaska-Juneau company owned and controlled by practically the same people who dominate the Treadwell, Mexican and United properties on Douglas island, chief of whom is F. W. Bradley, consulting engineer. The Mills estate also has a large interest, while a prominent New York stock exchange member is also credited with having an important voice in the company's affairs.

Estimates of the amounts to be put into new development run as high as $5,000,000, which will be privately supplied. Exploration work has uncovered a huge tonnage of ore to treat which one of the largest mills in the world has been planned with four sections of 2000 tons daily capacity to each section.

An 80-cent mining and milling cost is predicted by the Alaska-Juneau company, as compared with $1.40 for the Alaska Treadwell. He says the ore runs as low as 95 cents gold per ton, but averages $1.25 to $1.50.

O. J. SALISBURY TO GO TO WASHINGTON.

Salt Lake, Nov. 11.—O. J. Salisbury will represent the Utah Conservation commission at the National Conservation congress, to be held in Washington, D. C., November 18, 19 and 20. It was decided that Utah should be represented at the congress and at a meeting of the Utah Conservation commission, held in the Felt building yesterday afternoon, Mr. Salisbury was selected for the honor.

The meeting was called for the purpose of considering several matters of importance, among them being the establishment of an experimental farm in the southern part of the state and the determining of the feasibility of obtaining water for irrigation by pumping.

A committee consisting of Governor William Spry, George Austin, Professor Merrill was appointed with instructions to go to Logan on November 18 to confer with Dr. J. A. Wilder and Dr. E. D. Hall of the Agricultural college regarding the merits of the cases and of co-operative work. There were present at the meeting Governor Spry, H. T. Haines, Professor Merrill, Mr. Austin and Mr. Allen.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking care to strand at a time, by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.—Agents, A. R. McIntyre.

INCOME TAX PROVES A KNOTTY PROBLEM

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—Among the troublesome questions that came up today for consideration by the income tax experts of the treasury department was this one:

"Is the income tax going to put a premium on single blessedness?" Advocates of the law declared it would put a premium on marriage, but its interpreters now have found the paragraph affecting married persons not so easy of comprehension after all. The law reads:

"There shall be deducted from the amount of the net income of each of said persons (meaning taxable persons) the sum of $3000, plus $1000 additional if the person making the return be a married man with wife living with him, or plus the sum of $1000 additional if the person making the return be a married woman with a husband living with her; but in no event shall this additional exemption of $1000 be deducted by both a husband and a wife. Provided that only one deduction of $4000 shall be made from the aggregate income of both husband and wife when living together."

Experts Puzzled. That looks simple enough but the experts don't think it is. For instance they have to rule on whether two married persons living together, each of whom has an income of just $3000 must pay the tax. As individuals each would be exempt. Does marriage make them with an aggregate income of $6000 subject to the tax?

Another question that does not particularly concern the treasury, but which will interest husbands and wives is who is to pay the tax in case a joint income is taxable? Is it to be proportioned according to the income of the individuals, or is the husband to pay it all? One thing seems certain to the officials. The tax is going to prove an interesting index to marriages for many. Although many a mercenary man who took the step into matrimony may be allowed by his wealthy wife to pay the income taxes the chances are that much of her income is from investments that require the 1 per cent normal tax to be withheld at its source and a comparison of incomes would be not difficult.

No one need worry, over such a prospect, because the returns are to be kept secret and only a few collectors and treasury officials will know these details.

GUNBOAT WHEELING LEAVES FOR TUXPAN

Vera Cruz, Mexico, Nov. 11.—The United States gunboat, Wheeling, made a hurried departure from Vera Cruz yesterday. She is proceeding to Tuxpan, 145 miles northwest of Vera Cruz, in response to an urgent telegram from the American consular agent, Arthur C. Payne, who advised Rear Admiral Fletcher that four hundred rebels were about to attack the town and that a warship was needed to protect foreign property. Tuxpan has only a small garrison.

From other sources it is reported that the rebel strength is 3000 and that it is intended, after taking Tuxpan, to march against Tampico, which is also poorly garrisoned.

"COST OF LIVING" COMMISSION FORMED

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Chicago has a "cost of living" commission. It was organized last night when Mayor Harrison sent to City Council his list of appointments to the new municipal markets commission, which will make a study of municipal markets with a view to cutting down housekeeping bills. The commission will endeavor to determine to what extent consumers would profit by the establishment of municipal markets and is authorized to investigate all food handling agencies.

FIRST NEWS FROM BIG GAME HUNTERS

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 11.—The first direct message from the party of eastern scientists and big game hunters on Captain Louis Lane's power schooner Polar Bear, which was caught in the ice east of Point Barrow, Alaska, and is wintering in the Arctic, was received last night. The message was sent by Will E. Hudson, a Seattle photographer, with the party, and said the Polar Bear was wintering at Denaration Point, the boundary between Alaska and the Yukon territory, and that all on board were well. The Polar Bear has ample supplies to last through the winter. The message was sent 250 miles by messengers from the Arctic coast to the United States army signal corps station at Circle City. With the party is Eben S. Draper, Jr., son of former Governor Draper of Massachusetts.

WILSON FAMILY BUSY OPENING PARCELS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—The family circle at the White House, is busily engaged these days in opening boxes, breaking seals and unravelling packages of every shape and size—all containing presents for Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, who is to be married November 25 to Francis B. Sayre.

Some of the gifts have come from officials in distant lands. Strict secrecy, however, is being maintained as to the nature of the presents.

Health and Beauty Advice

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

Grace: Certainly that brittleness of hair and your dandruff are dangerous conditions and should be corrected quickly by a proper shampoo. Get some canthrox from your druggist and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water, then pour this mixture on the head slowly and rub well. This makes an abundance of rich, cleansing lather, and rinsing leaves the scalp and hair wonderfully sweet and clean. These shampoos are very soothing to tender, itchy scalps and so invigorate the hair roots that a growth of glossy, fluffy, even-colored hair results. Canthrox shampoos are invaluable to the finest growth of hair and prevent as well as overcome all scalp and hair difficulties.

Lotta M.: Here is a simple, inexpensive treatment for hairy growths: Mix a thick paste with some powdered delatone and water. Apply to hairs not wanted and in two or three minutes rub off and the skin will be smooth and hairless. Then wash the skin to remove the remaining delatone.

Gloria: I always use a crysotonic for my eyes when they are weak, weary and inflamed, or use it as an eye wash when I am going to dinners or parties and wish to look especially nice. I buy an ounce of crysotonic from my druggist and put into one pint clear water, then place two or three drops in each eye a few times a day until they are strong again. This eye tonic is also very good for granulated lids and will give a sparkle and delightful expression to dull, expressionless eyes.

Dolly: Your itchy scalp can be relieved and cured, as well as the falling hair, by the use of quinine tonic which at least a dozen of my personal friends are using and making at home from an ounce of quinine dissolved in a half pint of alcohol, to which should be added a half pint of water. They use this regularly by massaging into the roots of the hair and they claim the itching stops immediately, and the tonic improves the growth of the hair and helps nature make it beautiful and healthy.

Hortense: Indeed, you can easily cure that tired, depressed feeling which is accompanied with such a sallow condition of the face. They are caused by sluggish blood (very common in the fall and winter months) which is not properly eliminating the poisons from the system. Try this blood purifier and tonic: Into one half pint alcohol (whisky must not be used) pour one ounce khardene, then add one-half cupful sugar and hot water to make a full quart. Take one tablespoonful of this old-fashioned blood cleanser and tonic before each meal. This is splendid for that weak, worn feeling and restores the kidneys to normal action and the blood to a healthy condition. Its timely use will save much serious sickness.

Teacher: In your case the wrinkles and lines in your skin are probably caused by its extreme dryness. To remove them use this preparation which you can make for yourself, which will act rapidly and restore the softness and natural tone to the skin. Get an ounce of alcohol from the drug store and dissolve it in one-half pint cold water, adding two tablespoonfuls glycerine. Apply this before retiring and leave over night. This will remove wrinkles, prevent crow's feet and make your face soft and satiny. Since it has removed my crow's feet use it to clear and whiten my skin.

Anna: No, don't make yourself miserable by unnecessary dieting or indulging in violent exercise to reduce fat. Make up and take this simple reducer and your weight will soon be just where you want it. Dissolve four ounces parnotis in one and one-half pints hot water; when it cools strain and take a tablespoonful before meals. This parnotis reducer acts gently, is quite harmless and entirely satisfactory results are quickly attained.

Grillie: I have rejuvenated my complexion and again have the velvety rose-tint skin of my girlhood. I stopped using powder and now use this simple, inexpensive lotion: In one-half pint whisky or hot water dissolve four ounces spumax, then add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. This lotion dries quickly after being applied and is invisible. Use it on the face, neck, arms and hands and it will impart to the skin that youthful purity and exquisite tint it is impossible to obtain any other way. It is excellent for chaps, cold sores and to protect against fall winds, which dispels the oily, sallow, rough condition in a very short time.
